1-year Post-doctoral Position in Paris
CALL FOR APPLICANTS

Funding: "Research in Paris", City of Paris grant for hosting foreign scientists.

Salary 2500 €/month (net income). Duration: 1 year.
The City of Paris will provide housing, health care, and travel expenses.

Host laboratory:

Deadline for applying: March 10, 2011

Starting date: Between September 1, 2011 and February 28, 2012.

Project:
Development of Atomic Force-Electrochemical Microscopy (AFM-SECM) for Imaging the Distribution of Redox Labeled Biomacromolecules Immobilized onto Surfaces at the Nanometer Scale.

Profile and requirements:
The candidate should:
- Hold a doctoral degree in electrochemistry, chemistry or physics.
- Have some experience in nanoscience and local probe microscopies (AFM,… )
- Have some experience of, or a strong interest for reconstituted biomolecular systems.

The candidate should have obtained his/her PhD less than 5 five years ago, and before May 2011 at the latest.
Proficiency of French language is not mandatory.

Applicants from abroad are ineligible to apply if they:
- already live in France
- already work in France
- have already taken part in the “Research in Paris” grant scheme in the past.

For more details, visit the official web site:

Applying: Candidates should send an application containing a CV and a motivation letter to ...............